Ralph,

I was the XO's Yeoman aboard the Warrington, YN2 Fuller, during this last cruise. I received a Letter of Commendation from the 7th Fleet Commander, VADM Holloway, for my role as the 1JV Talker on the bridge during the incident.

If you'll give me your fax, I can send you a copy of my letter.

I filmed the entire cruise from Newport, through the Canal, up to the day I left the ship in the Philippines. My wife and I are putting it into a DVD and it should be available soon.

I recently retired from the Naval Reserve after 31 years total as a YNCS, most of the time spent with Seabees.

Glad to hear from you Jon. I'll post the letter if it comes through clean.

I did some reserve time with a unit affiliated with the Seabees--the Cargo Handling Battalions. I was in CBH 8 out of the Philadelphia Navy Yard for a couple of years under a Commander named Gilman who came out of the Seabee reserves.

I look forward to the DVD. Maybe my son can put some Flash video clips together for the website.

Ralph,

Thanks for the offer of help. This is kind of a daunting project, but Jon always thinks these things are easy. I guess I should complain more!

Seriously, I've been looking at this reel-to-reel since I met Jon and was glad when he finally got it onto VCR. When we met a couple of local guys who had been on the Warrington just before him, the idea of a DVD with sound came up. I have to write the script and block out the project. We do have a local videographer willing to help us put it together professionally.

Ship alumni may not care what it looks like, but I'd like it to be something that a spouse or someone can watch and get something out of it. I've collected a lot of background material online. We have a retired actor living here who is willing to narrate.

We'll just need to charge enough to pay us back for production costs, but that shouldn't be a problem. I don't imagine it'll cost us more than $2,000 or $3,000 and we have one person here willing to help with that.

I will keep you informed because I have no idea what "Flash video clips" are, but I'm sure my videographer friend does and we'll let you know when the time comes.

Thanks for offering to help.

Bev Fuller

If anyone ever received a copy of Jon's DVD, I'd love to put it up on the site.
